

BHOOMI KA'S CONFERENCE ON FOOD SYSTEMS TRANSFORMATION

Conference Highlights

The two-day event brought together over 180+ participants, including FPO leaders, SMEs, ecopreneurs, CSOs, and policymakers, to explore pathways for scaling ecological farming and creating smallholder-friendly markets.

Key Themes:

- Strengthening smallholder access to sustainable markets.
- Promoting ecological farming practices to combat climate challenges.
- Building inclusive food systems through collaboration and innovation.

Voices from the Conference

"This is the time to prioritize marginalized farmers, ensuring they have access to resources, markets, and knowledge. Bhoomi Ka's decade-long dedication to this cause has laid a strong foundation for inclusive and sustainable growth." — Shilpi Neha Tirkey, Agriculture Minister, Govt. Of Jharkhand

"Bhoomi Ka's platform has equipped us with the right tools to effectively advance ecological farming practices." — Mahalal Tudu, Farmer, Gola, Ramgarh, Jharkhand

Highlights from the Event:

Dynamic Panels & Discussions: Experts shared actionable insights on ecological farming, market access, and policy interventions.

Interactive Workshops: Stakeholders collaborated on solutions to improve value chains and address systemic challenges.

Networking Opportunities: New partnerships were formed to support shared goals in sustainable agriculture.

Empowering Smallholder Farmers with Bhoomi Ka

The conference showcased the inspiring journeys of Bhagbanpur II and Ranikhet Jica FPOs, along with Laporiya Foods SME, illustrating how small-scale agroecological interventions can drive significant change. Bhoomi Ka remains committed to amplifying such stories of resilience and transformation.

Key Takeaways: A Blueprint for the Future

The Bhoomi Ka Conference highlighted four key pillars for sustainable food systems transformation:

- ◆ Empowering Smallholders – Strengthening fair markets, building robust value chains, and equipping farmers with modern skills.
  - ◆ Scaling Ecological Farming – Promoting agroecological practices and climate-resilient farming.
  - ◆ Building Resilient Food Systems – Advocating adaptive policies and equitable resource distribution.
  - ◆ Fostering Collaboration – Bridging gaps between farmers, consumers, and policymakers for collective action.
